Riding across America

1. Stop putting it off, life is short.
2. America is a lot bigger than you thought
3. Take at least two weeks to do the ride
4. When choosing a bike, bigger does not mean more fun
5. Regarding accessories; more farkles more distractions less fun
6. Interstate = zero fun
7. Interstates save time but do you really want the trip to end sooner
8. Make sure your tires have at least 3-4000 miles of life left in them
9. If you can take a map; you don't need a GPS unit
10. Michelin maps are the best and most detailed
11. If you are riding in summer, buy a cooling vest
12. Bring earplugs
13. People will be asking you to tell them about the trip for years
14. Start and end your trip in an interesting place.
15. Take plenty of photos
16. Note the names and locations of the places that resonate you
17. Best months to cross the USA are in May to October
18. Its long ride Motorcycle camping is adventurous
19. Music that goes well for this ride: Ryan Adams, Wilco, Eric Clapton, Willie Nelson, Mark Knopfler, Jackson Browne, Emmylou Harris, Lucinda Williams, Ry Cooder and The Grateful Dead.
20. Save heavier meals for the end of the day
